SOUTHERN SENTIMENT.—"Muck" is traveling in the South and writing letters to the Cincinnati Commercial In one dated Atlanta, April 30, he says

You will hear a great many regrets expressed in this section at the failure of the South to accept the constitutional amendment; they will generally be coupled, however, with a statement that, in rejecting it, the people only took the advice of the Northern Democrats, and especially of President Johnson A dozen men of this city have said so to me. One of the leading politicians of the old regime told me yesterday that if it hadn't been for the Northern Democrats and the President, Georgia would have ratified that amendment, and thought herself lucky in getting off so easy "But," said he, "Johnson killed it I told them it was the best chance we'd get, and that we ought to adopt it, but Johnson and the Democrats keep writing to us to reject it, and they'd get us back through the Philadelphia Convention without any conditions Northern Democrats came here directly from Washington, with a message from Johnson to make no compromise with the Radicals and of course we wanted to make the best bargain we could—though I never believed we'd get a better one than that amendment"

There is no mistaking the very agreeable fact that the Southern people are beginning to learn the folly of relying upon the Northern Democrat to party The wonder is they didn't learn it from the war, or that they ever entertained a doubt that if there had been no Northern Democracy there would have been no Southern rebellion. If the Southern leaders hadn't been assured of a fire in the rear party in the North, they never would have engaged in the war, but when the time came for the fire in the rear to commence, the men who were to have gotten it up had all gone into their holes and dragged the holes in after them. However, there is a sufficient awakening in the public mind hereabout, now, to keep prominent before it the fact that of the present conditions of reconstruction are degrading, the Northern Democracy and Andrew Johnson are to blame—and that's a great point A wholesome disgust for the Northern Copperheads ought to commend the Southern people to the good favor of honest men more than negro suffrage, or any kindred measure, for it indicates real and essential progress in the right direction And it is growing. You will hear it every day in the South in quarters where you least expected it, and I am very much mistaken if there will be the least trouble in forming a large and powerful party in the South to coalesce with any party in the North—except the Radical agrarians—in opposition to the Democracy

THE GREAT BRIDGE AT ST LOUIS.—The Springfield (Illinois) correspondent of the Chicago Times gives some interesting particulars concerning the great bridge which is to connect St Louis with Illinois. He says:

The entire length of the bridge will be 2 [illegible] feet The lowest part of the main spans, or bottom cord, will not be less than fifty feet above city directrix (indicating the highest water [illegible] at the greatest span. There will be two over the main steamboat channel of 520 feet [illegible] in the clear, including abutments. The remainder of the spans over the main river will [illegible] less than 200 feet each, and probably will be 250 feet each There will be two spans from the Missouri shore of the river over the levee and [illegible] probably be found necessary to bridge at least [illegible] streets besides the above, on the St Louis side before coming to a level grade A portion of the slough on the Illinois side will also be bridged

The total length of the bridge over the main channel of the river will be about 2 000 feet The total length of bridging over the streets in St. Louis and over the slough on the Illinois shore will be about 700 feet, thus making the entire length of the bridge, as above stated, about 2 [illegible] feet The superstructure will be built of iron and on Post's patent plan The railway consists of two double track carriage ways and one street railway, with tracks on the latter to accommodate the different gauges of the railroads entering at St. Louis The railroad track will be between the two carriage tracks—the latter passing under the railway wheel over them on bridges, thus keeping the tracks from all interference with each other. Then there will, in reality, be three bridges, abreast of each other, which, in addition to the carriage and railway tracks will be two sidewalks, six feet wide each, on each side of the bridge The masonry will be the most substantial and massive character and description, the main piers will be from 120 to 150 feet high from the foundations, and will be 60 feet long on top and seven to eight feet wide with a proper batton to their foundations The foundations will be very expensive, and it may be found necessary to use pneumatic piles, but it is hoped that the ordinary piles will be found sufficient If so, they will be firmly driven, sawed off at the bed of the river or top of foundation, and the masonry lowered in iron caissons to its proper place

The approximate cost of the entire structure it is estimated will be about five million dollars, although this cannot be fully determined upon until a thorough examination is made of the bed of the river A corps of engineers will be on the ground in a few days.

THE REBEL LEADER.—The Pittsburg Commercial has the following remarks on the release of Jeff Davis

What claim that the government was bound to recognize had Jefferson Davis to be released on bail? Treason is not ordinarily a bailable offense, and on that score he had no legal right. On mercy, because he had been imprisoned for two years, he had no claim The horrors of Andersonville, Salisbury, Belle Isle and Libby are too fresh in the memory to justify such a plea To day an unfortunate man in a neighboring county will lose his life for taking the life of a fellow man, in whose behalf the right to be bailed was not claimed, because the right does not exist Yet Jefferson Davis, who attempted the overthrow of our government, by whose orders scores of thousands of lives were taken, cities depopulated, fields wasted, countless numbers of wives and children widowed and orphaned, and thousands upon thousands of brave men tortured to death in prison pens by exposure, disease and starvation, is set at liberty upon an insignificant bail bond! This act is particularly offensive when it is remembered that while Davis in his imprisonment was supplied with all the luxuries and dulcenses of life, warm, comfortable and convenient apartments, and a heavily laden table, it was by his orders that thousands of our brave soldiers in filth wretchedness and misery, in rags and tatters, in starvation and thirst, with bodies diseased and emaciated, and with brain frenzied, were slowly and hellishly tortured to death The contrast is fearful! The merciless crying for mercy, and he who gave no mercy gets it all!

HARD ON SALT LAKE.—The Salt Lake Vedette is responsible for the following A wayfarer dropped into the Occidental Hotel in this place on Tuesday to get a square meal Having planted himself in a chair at one of the tables, he was confronted with "What'll you have?" The hungry one fastened his eyes on the a tache le soup and said, "What have you got that's good?" "Oh, we have roast beef, corn beef, roast mutton, fried ham and broiled curlew" "What the hell is curlew?" said the stranger "Curlew?—why curlew is a bird, something like snipe" "Does it fly?" "Yes" "Did it have wings?" "Yes" "Then I don't want any curlew in mine, anything that had wings and could fly and didn't leave this d—d country, I don't want for dinner"

MORMONS ABANDONING POLYGAMY.—Many of those who returned to the States on Monday last, as well as numbers who are preparing to leave during the summer and fall, were polygamists, but lickerings, remorse, regrets and heart burnings have triumphed over an unreasonable as well as unreasonable practice, and opened their eyes to their real condition as members of society It is better late than never and so they evidently think, and are acting accord

Regulating Suffrage.

Senator Sumner, it is understood, will take an early opportunity to bring before Congress a proposition to regulate the suffrage in all the States of the Union He has already published several articles at various times in Eastern journals on the subject, in which he takes the ground that the proposed measure is entirely in harmony with the Constitution, being fully authorized by the latest amendment to that instrument Of course Senator Sumner will be able to produce a prodigious array of learned arguments to support his doctrine, but there are few persons who can be convinced that a clause of the Constitution which does not contain the most distant allusion to suffrage grants the power to Congress which the Senator claims. Until the Constitution is amended still further, the power of regulating the suffrage must remain where it has resided heretofore. The Senate is known to be almost unanimously opposed to Sumner's plan, and it is doubtful whether another Senator can be found who will vote with him on the question he raises. There is not the smallest probability of the adoption of such a measure. The States do not object to impartial suffrage so strongly as they would object to this mode of establishing it. The present indications are that most of the Northern States will, of their own accord, establish an equality of political rights within a very few years. Most of them are now moving in that direction with as much rapidity as they can; and there is not a doubt but the proposition will carry in some States which are soon to vote upon it. But in one particular relating to suffrage, the National Constitution could be amended with advantage. The right to proscribe the qualifications of electors of members of Congress and of the Electoral College should belong to Congress; the right to regulate all other elections belongs naturally to the States and should not be disturbed. The first is wholly a national matter, the last concerns the States only, and is of no interest to the General Government. Here should be the dividing line between National and State authority on the subject. The sovereignty of each should extend to everything necessary to carry into execution their own rightful powers. An amendment of this sort would have a chance of being considered by the people; but a proposition like Sumner's will not receive serious attention anywhere.

The Same Old Platform.

The platform which the California Copperheads have crawled out upon for an airing, is just such a platform as any one might expect to see them choose for the purpose. Conscious of the odium of their disgraceful and detestable record, they earnestly desire that the past shall be forgotten. That party everywhere is fully as anxious on this point as the rebels are to secure a general amnesty. The Copperheads implore oblivion; the rebels, pardon. The prayer of the latter will be granted much sooner than that of the former. It would be soothing, indeed, to the Copperheads to be assured that their old record should never more be mentioned; but this is a happiness they will not obtain during this generation at least. Nobody who remembers their acts can wonder at their anxiety to have the past forgotten. But they call in vain on the hills and mountains to cover them.

This California platform characterises the reconstruction measures of Congress as "harsh, illiberal and oppressive." Certainly—in the estimation of the patriotic man who denounced in precisely the same terms the measures which were adopted a few years ago to disarm the rebels who were striving to murder the nation. Everything that has been done against the rebels for the last six years has been, in the judgment of the makers of this platform, "harsh, illiberal and oppressive." Every Democratic platform which has been constructed for years, has contained substantially the very same words. But no one ever saw in any of these platforms a single expression of disapprobation against any act of those who sought the life of the Government. They have habitually resolved with the most pathetic vigor in favor of rebels; but never one word against them.

The platform of the California Copperheads is therefore the same old shaky, crazy structure without much attempt at diversification. The anti-war resolution of former years is eliminated, and a resolution praying for conciliation is substituted. No renunciation of the pestilent theories that produced the rebellion is made, as the party no doubt desires to hold itself in readiness to favor the next violent attack upon national authority.

"Offering" Again.—A couple of weeks ago the Herald was figuring on city finances. By dint of severe labor, and with the assistance of several unscrupulous politicians of the city clique, it managed to present an array of figures jumbled together without the least order or accuracy, and having about as much relation to city finances as they had to the condition of the bank of England. Since the election it has not repeated its clumsy falsehoods about this matter, probably not caring to tell such bald untruths unless there is a chance of gaining something by it. Of course it has not corrected the false statements it made in the interest of its party,—denying the indebtedness its party created three or four years ago;—nor has it withdrawn its mendacious charge against Mr. Lownsdale, to the effect that he demanded excessive taxation for the present year. It has not seen fit to make any further allusion to these matters, but has passed from a consideration of city finances to an investigation of the financial affairs of the country at large. Its success in this last undertaking is about equal to its success in the former one. National taxes are heavy, and the Herald complains thereat. We feel like complaining too, as the time is just at at hand when everybody must "come down" handsomely with the cash to pay the debt caused by the rebellion of the Herald's party. It is the habit of that party to get the country (and city) in debt, and then complain of the taxation that is necessary to pay it. Other people have a better right to complain of this severe national taxation, as they are not responsible for the existence of the debt which causes it.

There is a delightful variety in the way Maximilian continues week after week to disappear below the surface of things and reappear just as often. There is just enough of doubt in the case to make it interesting to spectators, though perhaps the uncertainty is a trifle too great for poor Max.'s peace of mind. Being in the hands of those against whom he so lately thundered his terrible bulls, he doubtless finds that it makes all the difference in the world whether one does the skinning or gets skinned.

Ten years ago, in one-third of the States of "enlightened America" it was a criminal offence to teach negroes to read. A race of human beings who were numbered by millions were kept by penal statutes in a state of mental darkness. And there is still a class of men in "enlightened America" who deplore the change which has blotted out those laws and abolished this despotism over the immortal mind.

The Sacramento Union and San Francisco Bulletin, though still refusing to support Gorham, the Republican candidate for Governor of California, distinctly repudiate Haight, his Democratic opponent. Haight was once a Republican, and was nominated solely with the hope that he might be acceptable to the class of Republicans who are dissatisfied with Gorham

The prisoner left here on the Golden City on the 18th inst., and with him the girl who had, in the meantime, been married to Meyer. It is now stated, and we believe on good authority, that Meyer jumped overboard when the steamer was off Santa Cruz, and swam ashore and arrived in this city overland, on Monday last. His friends furnished him with the means to effect his escape and he immediately took his departure and is now believed to be out of the State. The opportunity for this escape is said to have been planned on the steamer between Meyer and his wife. She pretended an attack for the officer, and under the pretence of wanting a private interview with him, he was induced to send Meyer out on deck to get him out of the way The girl then detained the officer in the stateroom until Meyer had jumped overboard and escaped. This is one of the most remarkable escapes on record. It is understood by the friends of Meyer, that his wife will attempt to return from Panama and join him at his place of refuge.

LATE EASTERN NEWS.

Louisiana Politics.

Chicago, June 17.—The Herald's New Orleans special says the Republican State Convention adjourned sine die, on Saturday night, after indorsing the following platform

"We advocate and will enforce perfect equality under the law to all men without distinction of color or race, we indorse the Acts of the last Congress, and will reconstruct Louisiana upon the Congressional basis, and send to Congress only true and loyal men, who will insist on perfect equality without distinction of race, in the right to vote, to enter the jury box without educational or property qualifications being required We advocate immigration and the division of the lands of the State so far as practicable into small farms in order that the masses of the people may become landholders We advocate the repeal of the cotton tax by Congress and if not granted, will demand as a right that class legislation be abolished and taxes laid on all the productive wealth of the Union We advocate equality in schools, the enforcement of the eight hour system except in cases of special contract, insist on a thorough revision of the laws of Louisiana, and the equal common to aid the Government in paying the last dollar of the public debt The platform condemns Johnson's amnesty proclamation, believing the disfranchisement of rebels the highest duty of the General Government No man will be supported by them for office who will not pledge himself to white and colored alike, as the newly enfranchised citizens constitute a majority. Part, at least half, the nominations for elective offices shall be taken from that class"

The Indian War

Chicago June 17.—The Tribune's Omaha special says Senator Thayer sent the following dispatch to Gen Grant and the Secretary of the Interior 17 Gen Buford reports that the telegraph attributes to him in regard to Indian matters he is guilty of reckless misrepresentation or cruel stupidity. The warfare now being carried on upon the plains by the savage Indians upon small parties of defenseless settlers, railroad surveying parties and laborers is barbarous and unprovoked The Government must not be deluded by any such reports as Buford's" The Indians attacked a train near the junction of the Colorado, yesterday and captured forty-five head of stock

FROM IDAHO.

From the Idaho Statesman of the 22d we get the following:

RANCH BURNED.

We learn from Capt. McGregor that the first ranch this side of Inskip's, was burned last Sunday night and all the stock driven off. The place consisted of a good house and barn and considerable other property No lives lost, we believe. Four soldiers stationed at Inskip's discovered the Indians making off with the stock and made pursuit, recapturing it all. About the same time there were about one hundred and fifty Chinamen coming from the ferry to Inskip's. Behind them Capt. McGregor saw a fresh Indian trail, which led him to suppose there was a small party of Indians lurking on the track of the "Johns" for plunder or murder, or both, as occasion might present.

FROM CAPT C. P. SMITH.

Capt. McGregor came in this week from the above camp to make some further arrangements in the quartermaster's outfit outfit for General Crooks expedition, which is soon to start for Stein's Mountain. General Crook will have four companies of cavalry and will mount another company of Infantry. His horses, 450 in number, are expected to arrive by the 1st of July, by which time he will have everything else in readiness to move. It is reported that there are five hundred warriors, with abundant arms and stock, near Stein's Mountain. If that report be true, we shall some time next month hear of a decisive fight in that direction. The command is composed of fighting men. All the officers and most of the men; are veterans of the war, so there is no fear as to the result. The event now most to be wished for is that the Indians may be forced to fight in a body. They may scatter into small bands and elude our soldiers. If they do, there will be no alternative but to pursue and kill as fast as possible. But whatever the result, we feel satisfied that the campaign is in good hands. The General commanding is a full believer in the doctrine that mercy to a savage and remorseless foe is cruelty to white immigrants and settlers. There will therefore be no half way work of it.

The New York Tribune expresses the opinion that the way for England to reclaim Canada, and prevent the Province from falling into the hands of the United States, is to act fairly toward us and observe the international law. It predicts the failure of the "Dominion" experiment and the consequent "peaceful absorption of Canada into the Great Republic"

Family Dye Colors.—After a careful and continuous use of the Family Dye Colors of Howe & Stevens for five years, the public with one voice have declared enthusiastically in their favor. It would be strange if they did not, for they are the only dyes in market people will buy. Firm, beautiful, easily used, safe—what wonder they are so popular. Sold by Smith & Davis.

Its Value is Incalculable.—For all diseases with which children are afflicted during the process of teething, Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup is a safe and certain remedy. REDDING'S

RUSSIA SALVE!

[Established 1860.]

Price 25Cent a per Box.

Is the Universal Remedy for

BURNS, SCALDS, CUTS, BRUISES, and all FLESH WOUNDS; for CHILBLAINS, CHAPPED HANDS, PILES and OLD SCROFULOUS SORES; ERUPTIONS, BLOTCHES, SALT RHEUM, and all CUTANEOU DISEASES.

REDDING'S RUSSIA SALVE is a purely Vegetable Ointment, made from the very best materials, and combines in itself greater HEALING POWERS than any other preparation before the public. Its timely application has been the means of saving thousands of valuable lives, of relieving a vast amount of suffering, and wherever used has proved itself in reality A BOON TO SUFFERING HUMANITY.

SIXTY YEARS' GENERAL USE OF THE RUSSIA SALVE IS A NOBLE GUARANTEE OF ITS INCOMPARABLE VIRTUES AS A HEALING OINTMENT.

The very large sale of REDDING'S RUSSIA SALVE, during the past sixty years, has given rise to hundreds of unworthy imitations, but throughout all opposition, the RUSSIA SALVE maintains its supremacy as a reliable preparation, having a steady and permanent sale, and never deteriorating in quality, by age or climate, and is sold to dealers at a price enabling them to realize a generous profit by its sale

CIRCUIT COURT—SHATTUCK, JUDGE.—Yesterday the following proceedings were had in this court.

The grand jury having presented several indictments were discharged.

W K. Foster vs. Reuben Beed—motion to discharge attachment, overruled

Reuben Beed vs. W K Ish, et al.—plaintiff allowed to re-the reply, and cause referred to W S. Caldwell to take proofs, and report upon all the issues by August 15th, unless an order be made to extend the time

W. H. Delay et al. vs. W. W. Chapman et al.—motion to strike out part of answer overruled, and plaintiff allowed till July 8th, to plead further to answer.

State vs Alexander McCarthy—indictment presented charging the defendant with the crime of gambling.

State vs. Charles M Starr—defendant arraigned, and allowed till the 8th of July to plead.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

In the Circuit Court for the county of Multnomah and State of Oregon:

To the Hon. E. D. Shattuck, Judge of said Court: The Grand Jury of the County of Multnomah, would respectfully report in this Honorable Court: that we have carefully inquired into all offences against persons mentioned in the order calling this special term of Court, and have found and returned into Court seventeen true bills, to-wit: five for larceny, five for counterfeiting, two for assault with dangerous weapons, three for gambling, one for selling liquor without authority to an Indian, and one for assault with intent to kill, and four not true bills

Having visited and inspected the County Jail, we found it well arranged and in excellent condition, combining all the requisite essentials for the safe keeping as well as health and comfort of the prisoners confined there. Sheriff Stiles deserves much credit for his vigilance and promptness as an officer, and of his humane prison discipline. There are twelve persons confined therein.

We also visited the Insane Asylum, under the management of Drs. Hawthorne & Loryea. We were informed that there were ninety patients under their care—forty-six males and twenty-four females—which were distributed throughout their spacious building, in convenient and well ventilated apartments. These gentlemen are entitled to much credit for the order and cleanliness in which this institution is conducted. We would, however, beg leave to make the following suggestions, which we believe would inure to the health and comfort of those most unfortunate class whom the people of Oregon, through a high sense of enlightened and Christian kindness for their welfare, has without stint provided for their comfortable maintenance. Our suggestion is that a large and well shaded and secured exercising ground, be enclosed and divided into suitable apartments for out-door exercise for females as well as males. In justice to the gentlemen having charge of the Institution, we will state, however, that we were informed that they had in contemplation and some work had been done toward inclosing grounds near the main building. Our suggestion is merely that it may be constructed large enough, and divided into suitable apartments, that both sexes, as well as all conditions of the patients, may enjoy the benefit of the fresh air and out-door exercise.

One other suggestion: We doubt the wisdom or prudence of raising pauper children by or in the presence of insane or idiot persons. Multnomah county is abundantly able to provide for the proper rearing of such children, and we respectfully call attention to this matter.

We visited the County Hospital, and learned there was fifteen persons—twelve males and three females—provided for by that Institution. There is too great a contrast between the general appearance of the two institutions. The poor individuals placed upon the charity of Multnomah county should have equal comforts and sanitary surroundings that those placed by the State in our county receive.

Having no further business, we respectfully ask to be discharged. WILLIAM CORNELL,
P. J. MAYER, Clerk. Foreman Grand Jury.

"We regret that the acting local editor of the OREGONIAN has deemed it necessary to discourage the acceptance of the invitation sent to the Portland Fire Department to celebrate the Fourth of July at Vancouver. Our firemen had certainly everything prepared to give their comrades from Portland a hospitable and cordial reception."

The foregoing item we clip from the Vancouver Register. We have not the slightest objection to the people of Vancouver having a rousing celebration, and hope that they may enjoy it. For ourselves, we feel just as our readers undoubtedly feels. We would feel a celebration at home, and did all we could toward effecting that object. We, like you, desired that the people of other towns should pay Portland, their big brother, a visit. They would have profited by it, so would we. We have no earthly doubt, had our firemen gone to Vancouver on the Fourth, they would have treated us they well deserved, and as Vancouver people well know how. We doubt not your hospitality, your good motives and kindness in extending the invitation you honored the Department with, but it saw proper not to avail itself of the proffered friendly greeting on the Fourth, and we have no doubt the reasons which caused its refusal were good and proper ones.

QUICK WORK.—The P. T. Company, yesterday, floated the steamer Active out of their new dry-dock at Oregon City, after overhauling and repairing the hull. The snag upon which she ran, some days ago, and which caused her to sink, tore a hole in her hull the width of a plank, and about twelve feet long. A tough looking knot from the snag was left sticking in the plank, imbedded some three or four inches. The steamer was floated to the dock at 4 P. M. Wednesday, and taken out again Friday at 12 o'clock M. The Echo was immediately docked in and rested upon the ways. From the time the first timbers of the head-gates were raised, the dock was filled with water, the Active was taken out and the Echo floated in and the water again drawn off—the Echo resting upon the ways, and men walking under her—in thirty-five minutes. This is decidedly quick work, but not near so quick as the company can do as soon as a few more isolated improvements shall be made to the dock. The Echo, which is in a very leaky condition, is to be thoroughly repaired. The Active will resume her regular business on the upper river on Monday.

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE.—It is our usual custom to be at the wharves on the arrival of the boats from the different points up and down the Columbia, Willamette, &c. It is also our usual custom to come away without having received any items, which, to say the least, is labor lost. Now something must be done. Capt. Ainsworth, Capt. McCully, and others in authority, must so manage their different lines, that occasionally something will happen. Not an accident, incident or circumstance, out of the ordinary of good management occurs. If we thought any of their efficient officers could be persuaded to do it we would not hesitate to make the necessary advances. But it's no use, they all know their duty and will keep at it, though the newspapers go dry for the want of an item. When we inquire of an officer if anything occurs, or to hear the pleasure of the day, we invariably get a significant shake of the head and a gentlemanly answer, of "Nothing!" So we have concluded to turn necessity into a virtue, and bide our time, and if anything does happen, will publish it with an energy which will astonish the public.

ASTONISHING TRIP.—The steamer Fakima, Capt. Coe, Master, on her last trip to Lewiston, made the entire trip from Celilo to Lewiston 279 miles at the rapid rate of 41 hours and 35 minutes, running time. Returning, the Yakima made the same distance (from Lewiston back to Celilo) in 13 hours and 7 minutes. Adding to the latter the time usually occupied in making the distance from Celilo to Portland, about 9 hours, the trip could have been made to Portland in 22 hours and 7 minutes, and the entire trip from Portland to Lewiston and back in the astonishing short time of 72 hours and 42 minutes. Further, we are informed that from Lewiston to Fort Benton, by the Lolo Fork trail, in the summer, the entire distance can be made in 6 days, which would bring us within 11 days, 2 hours and 35 minutes of Fort Benton.

CITY MARSHAL'S FEES.—The printer yesterday, innocently enough, made us say, in our report of the proceedings of the Common Council, that Marshal Hoyt's fee's and his bill for boarding prisoners, amounted to $7,940. Now this is entirely wrong. We have been accused of adding not less than a dozen persons to the long list of aspirants for his position. The Marshal jocularly gave us to understand that we had caused him to feel quite uneasy in the office he occupied. Just merely the transposition of a single comma made a difference of the Marshal's bill amounting to $7,830 00, and by a simple transposition of the comma aforesaid to where it should have been would have made the bill correct, to-wit—$79,40.

LUDICROUS.—Quite a ludicrous scene occurred yesterday at the P. T. Co.'s wharf, on the arrival of the Senator. The last of the passengers to make his exit from the boat, was a man having the appearance of one looking for a good hotel. The solicitors of patronage for each of the various public houses, at once accosted, and "buzzed" him, the old gentleman, in the "highest style of the art," and furnished him with at least half a dozen of the cards of each hotel, which he ravenously, in his ancient simplicity, received and pocketed, as if they would "pass" him on his way rejoicing. The last we saw of him he was partying with the runners, with a fair prospect of being captured by them.

RUNAWAY.—Yesterday, the dray horse, of which Mr. Nelson is the direct manager, took it into his head that he would prefer to run to eating oats, which his master had prepared for him. So determined, he run up Oak street to First, and thence in a northerly direction to B street, when coming in contact with some trucks, he capsized, and the dray also, when some sympathizing friend behind him gave the head and hold him in statu quo until the "management" soothed him. Nobody hurt, not even the horse or the dray.

TO-DAY.—To-day is the day appointed for the return of our principal, for whom we are a "sub." We are not sure that the light of his countenance will flash in our sanctum to-day, but if he does return as we expected, we (that is the present we) shall continue to bore the public for a short time longer, in order that the Captain may temporarily relieve another of the staff, who has long been confined to his duties.

ASTONISH AUCTION!—Richardson, the auctioneer, today sells two fine buggies—one two-seated, the other light and one-seated. Another opportunity for a good chance for purchasing a buggy may not happen for months, so they who desire to purchase should take our advice and be present. He also sells a variety of goods, furniture, etc.

MORE STRAWBERRIES.—J. O'Connor, grocer, First St., between Washington and Alder, yesterday presented us with a sample of strawberries grown by Mr. Cornell, about six miles west of the city. They certainly were a superior article, luscious and sweet to the taste, and also good to behold.

GONE TO LEAVE US.—Dr. O. P. S. Plummer is about to leave us and locate in Albany, where he has formed a copartnership with Dr. Rice, a physician of large experience and extensive practice. Portland loses a fine gentleman and good physician, but Albany gains by our loss.

THE Senator, yesterday, brought down the following freight: 41 sacks of wheat, 223 bales of wool, 76 sacks of flour, 1 box of merchandize, 2 rolls of leather —being the small'st freight this steamer has brought to the city for some time.

APPRECIATED.—On Thursday evening, after our paper had gone to press, the ladies of the Spiritual Festival at Oro Fino Hall, sent to our office by the hands of our familiar friend "Bob" Ladd, a magnificent lunch. The appreciative types were redundant with thanks for this very kind remembrance.

GOVERNMENT WAGONS.—The first installment of Government wagons, consisting of four, was yesterday drawn from the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf to Vaughn's wharf, and shipped aboard of the Fannie Troup, en route to Fort Vancouver.

STATE CASE.—In Eq. Anderson's Court yesterday the case of the State vs. Alex. McCarthy was, on motion of the District Attorney, dismissed, as the prisoner was already in jail and indicted for the same offence with which he was charged.

THE AJAX.—The telegraph informed us yesterday morning that this steamship, and also the bark Arracel, were advertised to leave for this port, the former to depart on Wednesday afternoon and the latter, time not determined.

DISCHARGED.—The Live Yankee has completed discharging freight, and has dropped down to Couch & Flanders' wharf, where she will take in a cargo—consisting in part of a large quantity of salmon, already engaged, and other freight

PIONEERS TO-NIGHT.—The Pioneer Base Ball Club will practice this evening at their grounds. This, perhaps, will be the last practising done previous to the match to be played on the Fourth at Oregon City with the Clackamas Club.

U. S. LICENSES.—Parties not having yet paid their United States licenses had better accept a word of warning, as next week the Collector will come out with an advertisement for the special benefit of the tardy.

BOXED BACON.—R. G. Sneath, grocer, Front streets was yesterday engaged in boxing up some mighty fine bacon in good substantial boxes for Capt. Haskell, at Fort Vancouver, for the use of the military.

FLOUR.—Yesterday afternoon we saw forty sacks of Imperial flour on the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf, consigned to Bloch, Miller, & Co. at the Dalles, for the retail trade. What's up?

FIRST FIRE.—The first fire was made yesterday in the furnace at the Oregon Iron Works at Oswego, for the purpose of testing the same.

FINED.—Yesterday, in the Circuit Court, James Butler, colored, indicted for gambling, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

U S GRANT.—This little steamer leaves this morning for Astoria and way points, with freight and a large number of passengers.

OKANAGAN.—This steamer arrived yesterday, all right, as usual, without any news to be reported.

U. S. COURT.—On Monday, the United States District Court convenes, Judge Deady presiding.

FOR HARRISBURG.—The P. T. Co. will dispatch a boat this morning for Harrisburg and way points.

PARADE.—The Washington Guards last evening were out on parade, and made a fine appearance.

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENT.—We saw, yesterday, at J. L. Parrish & Co's something new in the way of an organ—a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphonse Ricolphe. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufactories. It is provided with sixteen stops, each of which exercises a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The bass stops are the Forte, Jeu Doux, (soft, sweet) Basson, Clarion, Bourdon, English Horn; the treble stops are Expression, Tremolo, Scotch Bagpipe, Flute, Clarionette, Fife, Hautbois, Voix Celeste, Forte, and Knee or Full Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising. For instance: from the flute to Voix Celeste with Full Expression, the tone changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to the full grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—what is the name imports. The Key-Board is movable and can be adjusted to any key, to any instrument, or to the voice of any singer. Other changes are no less surprising. The instrument is one of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish; have taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175, to $500. Persons in want of an instrument should call and see them, for it is impossible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co., are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

CHOLERA.
MR PERRY DAVIS:—The benefits I have received from the use of your invaluable remedy, the Pain Killer, induces me to pen a word in its praise. Experience has convinced me that for Headache, Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, or any other part of the system, severe Chills, Weariness, common Colds, Hoarseness, CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Toothache, etc, THERE IS NOTHING BETTER THAN THE PAIN KILLER. I have this hour recovered from a severe attack of the Sick Headache, by using two teaspoonful, taken at thirty minutes interval, in a wine glass full of hot water. I am confident, through the blessing of God, it saved me from the cholera in the summer of 1849. Travelling amid heat, dust, toil, change of diet, and constant exposure to an infected atmosphere, my system was daily predisposed to dysentery attacks, accompanied with pain, for which the Pain Killer was a sovereign remedy, one teaspoonful curing the worse case in an hour, or, at the most, half a day. I have heard of many cases of dysentery being cured by its use. Put in the teeth, it will stop the toothache. Gratitude, and a desire for its general use, has drawn from me this unsolicited testimonial in its favor.

Germans Everywhere.

"Where is the German Fatherland?"

It would be interesting if one could give a comprehensive answer to the question by travelling round the world and taking a glance at the German settlements on its surface. If we began at the right place, it might probably be effected by going from one German place to another, by water and land, in German ships, without interruption, around the world, and it is one great Germany, only a little diluted. From Hamburg, we could sail in German ships to New York, where Germans swarm by scores of thousands. From this point you could go from one German village to another in every State, through the Indian Territory itself, to San Francisco. Deep in the interior of North America one would discover unsuspected and unheard of German villages among fields of golden grain, and toward the South among vineyards. In San Francisco one can lodge comfortably in German hotels, read German journals, sing German songs in German clubs, and drink Bavarian beer—unless one prefers the California German wine.

It was from San Francisco that a German sent the first ship to the mouth of the Anson river in Siberia, and there will probably be during the course of ten years opportunities to sail in German vessels to Japan, China or the Anson territory.

In China there are more or less German business houses and cafes, and it is possible to travel from the Pacific to St. Petersburg, so that there are frequent opportunities to speak, sing, and drink with Germans. What is not as yet will come—that is to say, one belt around the earth of German social and educational influence.

No other nation has had such a cohesive power and hold as this productive and intellectual race. The English, who stretch out their commercial fleets like the arms of a polypus around the earth, have in most of their colonies only an enforced, the superficial hold, wrung and maintained by the strong hand of ship-of-war, cunning and power, which they win and strive to hold by war and violence, without really gaining aught. The Germans have established themselves everywhere, singly or in small sequestered groups, and conquer only by industry, aptness and bodily or intellectual power. Even in their gymnastics, shooting, and song festivals, held here and there, they next exert an influence not without its value.

There is an indescribable charm about cultivated German ability, especially in the German song as sung by educated men. Even those who do not understand the words are charmed by the melody and the expression.

German teachers of music and song are esteemed and welcomed the world over, and with them Germans have in many branches of art and manufacture almost a monopoly, simply because they really excel in them.

Cosmopolite Germany is destined to have a large share in influencing culture throughout the world.

ASTRAY IN JOURNALISM.—Does any reader ever think how intimate he has become with his daily paper? Let him go to a new place, buy a strange journal, and how quickly he will discover that something is wanting to which he is accustomed. There is the usual amount of news, the usual extent of comment, the usual variety of topics. But something is askew. Things he wants to find are not where he looks for them; things that he eagerly looks for are where he does not want to find them. The taste for newspaper reading is an acquired appetite. The reader, accustomed to a New York journal will find little satisfaction in reading a Boston or Philadelphia paper, and (though we are slow to believe it) perhaps the Boston or Philadelphia reader does not relish the New York journal. How eagerly does one in traveling grasp at the first home paper that is offered him! But the most notable change in the composition and physiognomy of a paper is marked by him who goes abroad. To an American, the English daily paper is, at first sight, utterly void of interest. There are no syllabuses or indices of prominent events in blazing head lines, which give the reader the cream of the contents at a sip. The American complains that he cannot find anything in an English paper. That is, of course, because he does not know where to look for it, a short coming that is overcome in a short time. But, then, any stranger can master an American journal at a glance. Thus there are points of excellence in our journalism surpasses that of the English, while those points are considerable in which our cousins undersrate.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO.—One hundred years ago there was not a single white man in Ohio, Indiana or Illinois Territories. Then, where the most flourishing part of America, was known as the mountains of the moon. It was not until 1769 that the hunter of Kentucky, the gallant and adventurous Boone, left his home in Virginia, to become the first settler of Kentucky. The first pioneer of Ohio did not settle twenty years afterward.

Only a few years ago, Canada belonged to England, and the population of the United States exceeded a million and a half. A few years ago the great Frederick of Prussia was performing those exploits which have made him renowned in military annals, and with his little army was sustaining a single handed contest with Russia, Austria and France, the three greatest powers of Europe combined.

Several years ago, the United States was the only real republic in the British Empire, and on the hopeful horizon it spoke indistinctly the struggle which within a hundred years thereafter, established the greatest Republic in the world.

A few years ago, there were but four newspapers published in the United States—with a combined circulation not exceeding 2,000. Steam engines and telegraphs had not been imagined, and railroads and telegraphs had not entered the realm of human.

DIVORCE NUMBERS.—The Dayton Journal says a report is circulating that two romantic little fellows, comrades, who reside in the same neighborhood in this city, left their homes together at a very early hour last Wednesday morning, and that their absence at breakfast and dinner gave cause for great uneasiness to their parents. On close examination of the bedroom of one of the boys, his mother found a note addressed to her, stating that himself and little friend were going to the Rocky Mountains to hunt buffalo and bear. They had plenty of money (it was ascertained that they had about $10 between them), and they didn't intend to be back under six months. One of the boys having an uncle residing in the vicinity of Covington, Miama county, it was believed that they had started for that place, and the fathers of the boys went thitherward in pursuit. They found the little Nimrods by the roadside, about six miles from the city. They had little bows, and arrows with spikes in the head of them, and when found they were trying to get a shot at some rather wild calves that were wandering in the woods near the pike. They said they were practicing for buffaloes. They had been reading a modern work for boys entitled 'Tom Thorn in the Woods,' and been literally carried away with it."

INDIANA DIVORCES.—The facility with which divorces can be obtained in Indiana is well known. The majority of suits for divorce in the courts are from people who came to Indiana for that purpose alone; but of course the laxity of the law is an inducement for many bona fide citizens to dissolve the marriage bond.—In the county of Marion there were, last year, two hundred and twenty-three applications for divorce; of these one hundred and eleven granted and twenty-six dismissed, the remainder not having been tried. One hundred and forty-two of the applications were by females and eighty-one by males. The proportion of divorces applied for to marriage licenses issued was one to four, and the proportion of divorces granted to marriages made was one to eight. One divorce to every eight marriages. Certainly connubial bliss is fast becoming a rarity, and the wisest are those who don't "take stock" in the matrimonial lottery.

The following contribution evidently from a very young chap, is said to be a composition handed in at a recent school examination. The young student chose for his subject, "The Ox," and discoursed as follows:

Oxen is a very slow animal, they are good to break ground up, i would rather have horses if they didn't have kollick, which they say is wind collected in a bunch, which makes it dangerrer for to keep horse the people would have to wheel there wood on a wheelbarrow, it would take to or three das to wheel a cord a mile. Cows is useful to i have heard some say that if they had to be tother or an ox they would be a cow. But i think when it come to have their tits pulled of a mornin they would wish they wasn't, for oxen don't generally have to raise calves. If i had to be ouny i would rather be a heffur and had to be both i would be an ox.

A FATHER CUTS HIS OWN CHILD'S HEAD OFF.—A very sad accident occurred at Charlevoix, (Mich.) on Saturday, May 4th. A little daughter of Thomas Knowland, aged eighteen months, was with her mother near where the father was engaged in chopping. Knowland had just left the child by the side of its mother, and was not aware that the child had followed him to the log, on which he resumed his chopping. Stooping to cut on the under side of the log, he saw nor heard nothing until the little head was thrust directly under the descending ax, and receiving the full force of the blow. The child survived less than an hour after receiving the injury.

A cotemporary suggests that a lady on putting on her corsets, is like a man who drinks to drown his grief, because in so-lacing herself she is getting tight.

A Massachusetts merchant received a telegram from Calcutta, which had only been two days and five hours on the way, and cost him five hundred dollars.

Small and steady gains give competency. You may gain a large family in a shorter time by having your children come twins, but it is wiser to have them born one at a time.

"Come don't be timid," said a couple of silly snobs to two mechanics; "sit down and make yourselves our equals." "We would have to blow out our brains to do that," was the reply.

An advertisement in a Philadelphia paper reads as follows: Stolen, a watch worth $100. If the thief will return it, he shall be informed where he may steal one worth two of it, and no questions asked.

Brigham Young recently rebuked the Utah women for "whining." He says women who marry in Utah "expect too much from their husbands," and are "generally disappointed." We should think so.

The sage of the Buffalo Republican informs us that "if a young man spends two hours with a young lady every night, and her old folks don't make any fuss about it, the young folks may be said to be engaged." Clearly.

The present Duke of Wellington is said to have reduced his income, by extravagant expenditures, from seven hundred and fifty thousand to seventy-five hundred dollars a year. He has a good excuse. His only brother, Lord Charles Wellesly, is a helpless lunatic, and he, himself, as the consequence of a drunken frolic at Constantinople—in point of fact a midnight raid upon the Sultan's seraglio—was the victim of a fate which precludes the possibility of his transmitting name or fortune to posterity.

Considerable disappointment is manifested in Paris on account of the small number of arrivals from the United States. One writer says: "We were really astounded here when the telegraph informed us that the Australasian brought only eighty-one passengers, and the Guiding Star forty-five. Everybody at once concluded that a cipher had been omitted from the right hand of each number. Since the report has proved to be true, we have placed our faith on the Great Eastern, and shall swear by her until she arrives within hail." The Great Eastern took proportionately a smaller lot than any other vessel.

A reverend gentleman recently left his home in a city in Pennsylvania, and repaired to the coal region of that State. On arriving at his destination he was startled to find the following telegram from his wife: "Come home and marry me. Start Thursday morning." Of course he returned at once in a state of painful perplexity. The dispatch sent by his wife ought to have read:

"P , 23.
"To Rev. Mr. W Fn:
"Come home to marry M. E. Stuart, Thursday morning. Answer immediately.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, 2 P. M., June 28, 1867.

Gold in New York on the 27th, by our latest dates was ¼ per cent. less being quoted at 138. Legal tenders in San Francisco were 72½ buying, and 73 selling.

Flour—The low prices ruling at San Francisco, will have a tendency to check shipments. Prices must be considered entirely nominal, though quoted same as last week. As great expectations have been indulged in, regarding a market in Japan for our surplus flour, we copy the following from Knapp, Burrell & Co.'s San Francisco Market Review of June 15th: "The long predicted improvement in trade circles that we have been earnestly longing to realize, has at length begun to dawn upon this coast; and singularly enough it comes at the very moment when intelligence from nearly all parts of the mercantile world reach us of depression and disaster in many leading marts. From Japan and China we have late advices, per the steamship Colorado, after a short passage of 29 days from Hongkong and 19 from Yokohama. The intelligence from the former is to May 15th, and from the latter to the 25th of the same month. Trade in both countries was unpromising, so far as exports thither are concerned, markets for our breadstuffs, leather, etc., showing quite an unexpected depression. The hope had here been fondly indulged that for the latter staple, Japan would, in the future, be a regular customer of ours, but in this respect, advices now at hand dispel the hope for a market of any considerable importance."

In regard to Breadstuffs it says. "The Breadstuff market for the short period passing in review, has been more dull and languid than for any like period in a twelve-month, the constant tendency of prices being to a lower standard. The offerings of both wheat and flour have been considerable, holders evincing much apparent anxiety to sell. The last cargo of Oregon flour came to a sluggish market, so much so that a large receiver told us, in reply to a query respecting it, that he could not 'give it away, prices being so low and nominal,' which we are sorry to be forced to say before the public—but, may hap, something may "turn up" causing a change.

Wheat—The market for wheat is about the same as last week. No change in the quotations. Trade, however, in that article is not active.

Agricultural Implements—Have been in good demand during the past week, though not up to the expectations of dealers. The country needs rain very much and unless there is rain very soon the crops will be short. Prices for implements remain unchanged.

Bacon—Is in better demand for shipment and is held firm. Last week's quotation,—sides, 9@10c, hams, 10@11c.

Dried Apples—are held firm at last week's quotation for shipment—in kegs, 10@11c

Lard—continues as last week, though dull at prices quoted—in tins, 10@12c

Sugars—Nothing not in regard to this commodity—though receipts of sugar by incoming steamers has undoubtedly had the effect of stiffening the quotations of last week

Salmon—The market is full of salmon. We quote half bbls. at $9—a decline of fifty cents

Salt—This commodity remains without change

We are in receipt of a schedule of freight from Wallula to different points, from a reliable gentleman, and which were the ruling rates on the 27th of June, as follows

To Boise City, ox teams (in dust)	" mule teams,	5 cents 6 "
To Idaho City, teams,	" Trains,	6½ " 4½ "
To Fon d'Oroille and Colville, ox teams,	" Mule teams	3½ " 4 "
